Experience

ASTREA MEDIA, LLC

New York, NY

Associate Producer (Jan 2019 - Present)

For the past year, I've helped develop, animate, produce, edit documentary and virtual reality projects for Astrea Media, a socially-minded non-profit organization dedicated to creating innovative film and interactive media projects about human and environmental rights issues that generate positive social change. My responsibilities include:

- Build comprehensive design-forward websites for the documentary and virtual reality experience projects
- Create original hand-drawn animations for the virtual reality project
- Assist with editing and after effects animations for the documentary project
- Research and organize information for each project, creating detailed outlines and resources
- Assist with distribution, outreach for each project, including researching and applying for grants and festivals with descriptive decks and project pitches
- Assist with other office duties specific for a non-profit
- Often working under tight deadlines for applications and festival showings
